

Simply Quizzical

1. Northern grape varieties include only red varieties.

True or False

2. Which statement is incorrect?

- a. Northern grape varieties ripen in short growing seasons
- b. Northern grape varieties are so resistant to fungus that spraying fungicide is not necessary in Iowa.
- c. Northern grape varieties survive low winter temperatures
- d. South facing slopes are preferable to north facing slopes for vineyards.

3. The Northern grape varieties grown in the Upper Midwest have been around for thousands of years.

True or False

4. Soils in Tassel Ridge Winery vineyards approximate the ideal soil type for grape vines.

True or False

5. Bald eagles roost or build nests in what kinds of locations:

- a. Warm climates in the Southeastern U.S.
- b. In cold climates near water that will not freeze over during the winter
- c. In shrubs near the edge of urban areas
- d. On river banks at the edges of parks

6. 3,000 pounds of milk produces how much cheese

- a. 100 pounds
- b. 3000 pounds
- c. 1000 pounds
- d. 300 pounds

Across

- 2 The earliest Frisian Farms cheese is sold at an age of _____
- 4 Loam is classified by the USDA as 40% _____
- 5 _____ is the main difference between sand, silt, and clay
- 6 _____ has the biggest particle size
- 7 Loam is classified by the USDA as 40% _____
- 8 Loam is classified by the USDA as 20% _____
- 9 Visitors in Southeast Iowa can watch these in their habitat 15 miles from Tassel Ridge Winery
- 10 Grapevines prefer soils that are slightly _____

Down

- 1 Grape varieties grown in Iowa, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and other cold climate states are called _____
- 2 3,000 pounds of milk produces _____ of cheese
- 3 The best soil type for growing grapes is a _____ soil
- 8 _____ has the smallest particle size

The Extraordinary

CROSSWORD